Additional Resources: Pipeline Automation

This reference document is designed to complement and enhance the material we have covered in Pipeline Automation.

References:

1. This page is a reference for implementing schedules and triggers in Airflow.

   Airflow Scheduling and Triggers

2. This page is a resource that allows you to specify a specific interval or period, and it then generates the crontab entry that corresponds to the specified period.

   Cron maker

3. This article explains from a business and practical standpoint why serverless data processing is much more effective than traditional methods.

   Serverless data processing